YOUNG DIRECTOR

Joost van Deijzen is a director from Amsterdam.

After studying Media and Entertainment, he decided to fully focus on filmmaking and directing. In his work he mainly communicates through mood and aesthetics. He views the world through a raw and unpolished lens, usually resulting in films that have a distinct nostalgic look and feel.

It's his passion to explore and capture the abundant diversity of people and cultures through authentic, emotion driven stories. Next to crafting ideas, he always strives to work towards strong visual translations that raise stories to a higher level.
