DIRECTOR

Sebastien Guy was born and raised around the world, but started his career in Los Angeles as an actor, whilst studying film at The California State University. After having worked extensively as a TV commercial actor, Sebastien moved behind the camera to become a strong visual and performance director.

His unique ability to draw out true, honest and real performances is a function of the relaxed environment he creates. The defining feature of Sebastien's work is always beautiful and cinematic look, while maintaining an authentic and natural tone.
